

Project to Develop Guidelines and Standards for Educational Evaluation

A Joint Committee representing the American Association for Higher Education, the American Association for School Administrators, the American Educational Research Association, the American Federation of Teachers, the American Psychological Association, the Association of Elementary School Principals, the National Council on Measurement in Education, the National Education Association, and the National School Boards Association will develop a volume on guidelines and standards for educational evaluation. This volume is to be prepared in collaboration with a panel of experienced evaluators, to be reviewed by a panel that represents a wide range of disciplines, and to be considered for ratification by the organizations that are represented by members of the Joint Committee. A grant to support the first year of the four year grant has been provided by Lilly Endowment to the American Educational Research Association. The total effort is to be administered by a central project staff in the Western Michigan University Evaluation Center. The end products are to be (1) a companion volume in the area of evaluation standards to the AERA, APA, NCME Standards for Educational and Psychological Test and (2) a plan for periodic review and revision of the evaluation standards.

From:

Yates, J. P. (Ed.) (1976, Spring). Project to develop guidelines and standards for educational evaluation. NCME Measurement News, 19(2), 31.